DETAILED ACTION

Applicants amendment canceling claim 73 and amending claim 71, Paper No. 28, 7/30/2002, is acknowledged. Applicants' arguments filed on 7/30/2002, Paper No. 28, have been fully considered and are deemed to be persuasive to overcome some of the rejections previously applied. Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn. Claims 71 and 72 are still at issue and are present for examination.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to for the reasons cited on the enclosed form PTO-948.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 71 and 72 are rejected under 35 USC 101 as encompassing non-statutory subject matter. The claimed invention is drawn to biological preparations that include cells and tissues. Reference to the specification, paragraph bridging pages 30 and 31 indicate that the claimed cells may encompass embryos. Claim 72 includes the specific recitation that the claimed invention includes blastocysts. None of the claims exclude human embryos or blastocysts. A reasonable interpretation of the scope of the claims to embryos and blastocysts is that they encompass human beings which are considered to be non-statutory subject matter. Exclusion of such embryos, blastocysts, and other cells which could reasonably read on human beings would be remedia.
